Pie Throwing Awaits Low Vote Class Head

A contest between the four classes is in progress Thursday and Friday to see which has the highest percentage of voters, and the president of the losing class will get three pies in his face.

Junior class president Gordy Hansen has challenged the other three class presidents to beat the juniors in voting during studentbody and class final elections.

Pies will be thrown during intermission at the Inaugural Ball Friday night. Winners of the Executive Council and class positions will also be announced by Max Pitcher, elections chairman, during the intermission.

Gives Vote Slogan

"It's smart to take part in the voting for next year's leaders," Pitcher said. "Don't gripe about the student leaders next year; vote this year and elect the ones that will do the job."

Vigilantes will be out on campus during voting days to remind students to vote and take students to the polls that do not go themselves.

On the final ballot will be an amendment to the ASBYU Constitution making it the supreme law of the studentbody. The amendment was included in the February AMS-AWS elections, but did not pass because of the low percentage of voters.

Seek Amendment

The amendment will be passed if approved by a majority of student voters in an election with more than 25 per cent of the studentbody participating.

Senior class president candidates are George Jarvis and Don Bahr; Rachel Anderson and Colleen Calder are veep hopefuls and only secretary candidate is Judy Listier.

Ron Robinson and Craig Christiansen are running for the top junior class posts, and Mark Bench and Cliff Soverson are candidates for junior vice president. Janet Mayo, Peggy Parker and Norman Johnson will be on final ballots for junior secretary. John Bingham and Dick Hart are in the sophomore class proxy race. Diane Dill and Carol Tolton are vice president candidates, and Mary Merrell and Gail Spilsbury are secretarial candidates. Miss Spilsbury is a write-in candidate whose name was not listed Wednesday.

Run for Senate
Senior class senator hopefuls are DeAnn Dorn, Kim Ki

Longden to Keynote Stake Conference

Brigham Young University General sessions of conference auxiliaries and all male stake missions will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m.

Mutual Improvement Association meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday.

A special meeting for all members of the stake will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fieldhouse. Elder Longden has asked that all men and women in the stake be present.

Schwendiman has advised members to set your date and come to the Fieldhouse. It is planned that this meeting will be over by 9 p.m. so that everyone can go ahead with any date or party plans.

A special Priesthood Leadership meeting will be held Saturday at 6 p.m. in the Smith Family Living Center.

The following people have been invited to attend: stake presidency and clerks, high councilmen, bishops, apostles and clerks, all Melchizedek Priesthood quorum presidents, group leaders and secretaries, all stake and ward Ward Teaching clerks and supervisors, all priesthood holders working in stake service.

On that appearance, newspaper reporters added: "Concert and Applause" . . . "Pop Show Wins Rave Reviews" . . . "Manton in Polished Performance."

In the spring of 1953, Manton made a 12-city tour of Alaska. He also made his first appearances with symphony orchestras in 1955. These have included solo engagements with the San Francisco Symphony, Utah Symphony, Phoenix Symphony, Sacramento Philharmonic, San Diego Symphony, and Portland Symphony.

Raymond Manton . . . Tenor soloist will give assembly concert.

Friday Lyceum Features Guest Tenor Soloist

Famed tenor soloist Raymond Manton will present a concert at Friday's assembly at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse. He will be accompanied on the piano by Carl Fuerstner.

Born in New York City, Manton began serious musical study at age fourteen and did solo work in churches and on CBS concert broadcasts. This work was interrupted by four years of service in the Army forces.

Returning to civilian life, he moved to San Francisco, where he was the recipient in 1951 of a scholarship for further study granted by the Loring Club, distinguished 75-year-old San Francisco male chorus.

He made a successful debut in June 1953 which brought an immediate request to sing as soloist with Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra, the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, on the Art Commission concert series at the Civic Auditorium.

On that appearance, newspaper reporters added: "Concert and Applause" . . . "Pop Show Wins Rave Reviews" . . . "Manton in Polished Performance."

Kirkham Quits Contest

Mike Kirkham, candidate for vice president of student activities, has announced that he has withdrawn from the race for the position.

Kirkham said he decided to drop out because he feels that the campaign has been a distraction of the important issues before the studentbody and that someone else should have the opportunity and experience he has had during the past term.

Kirkham will be Grand Duke of Intercollegiate Knights next year and said he thinks he can be of more service and develop more in a new position.

Chuen, Tom Jones, Chuck King, Greg Skyles, Maureen Gest, Dick Jackson, and Carol Goodson. Junior senator candidates are Anelene Andrus, Susan Kearns, Doyle Schiffman, Evelyn Hegsted, Claudia Clark and Parker Fuhrman.

Seeking the sophomore senatorate are Shirley Nixon, Keith Terry, Barton Eames, Ed Barner, Maury Coway and Dave Ferrell.

Three candidates for the two graduate senator positions are Mary Jenkins, Eleanor Bethold and Marlyn James.

Candidates are reminded that they must have a complete financial statement to the elections committee by 5 p.m. Friday. They are not included as expenses will be photographed and any plastic covering purchased to protect signs and posters.

Home Econ Anniversary Celebrated

The American Home Economics Association will commemorate their golden anniversary Thursday at 7 p.m.

A public meeting will be held in the Leah D. Widtsoe room of the Smith Family Living Center, celebrating the event.

The program will portray in costume 80 years of progress of home economics as it was then called, to the present extensive College of Family Living.

Special guests will be Mrs. Leah D. Widtsoe, early teacher at Brigham Young Academy; Dr. Ernest L. Hinckley, professor emeritus; Maud Holdaway of Orem, former teacher and Eleanor Jorgenson of BYU, past presidents of the Utah State Home Economics Association.

Guests will be greeted by Roselene Arvinitas, Tabiona, chairman of the Utah, Wasatch, Uintah, Duchesne, Cache, Sanpete, and Utah State Home Economics Association, and Dr. Jack B. Trunnell, dean of the College of Family Living.

Members of the Home Economics Club, with Pat Peck as president, and Gamma Phi Omicron sorority, with Donna Bird as president, will participate in the presentation.

Gordon Thomas Gets $2500 Phi Kappa Award

Gordon K. Thomas, Brigham Young University senior, has been awarded a $2500 Phi Kappa Phi Fellowship, one of seven in the United States to receive this honor this year.

Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, has chapters at 76 of the nation's leading universities. Membership is determined by superior scholastic attainments as well as leadership. One is permitted to nominate one of its members for the fellowships, and of these nominees, seven are chosen.

Thomas, Short Hills, N.J., is a senior at BYU with a major in English and a minor in Spanish. He plans to teach English in college after he has completed his schooling.

The stipend he has been awarded will permit him full-time study and credit during the 1959-60 academic year as a candidate for a master's degree in English. Longer than an interview, he has not yet determined which university he will attend.

As a freshman at BYU, Thomas was a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary scholastic fraternity. He was a member of AFROTC, chairman of the freshman class, also, and was later a member of the BYU Program Bureau with which he toured several times.

Thomas' schooling was interrupted for two years when he served as a missionary in Argentina for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Wye Seeks Spring Issue Material

Deadline for submitting work to the Wye magazine for spring quarter is May 1, according to Barnard Hunt, editor.

Hunt said that the staff would like to have fiction, poetry, essays, art work and photography submitted.

George H.H. (Hal) Bremerton, Wash., won $50 for his story, "Burning Snow," which appeared in winter quarter's Wye. The prize was given by the Desert Book Store.

Anyone who would like to write a special feature article for the magazine may talk to him, Hunt said.

Wye magazine office is in TOB 3. Contributions may also be taken to the office or to the Journalism Dept. Office in the basement of Clark Student Service Center.

GOVERNORS DUE
All applications for capes, gowns for June commencement must be placed by Friday in the record department of the Student Supply Center.

Reservations of the outfits must be made by the end of this week in order for the bookstore to be able to guarantee delivery in time for graduation exercises.

ART ON DISPLAY
Half a month remains to view art work from the Artist's Guild on lower campus, according to Conon Mathews, of the Art Dept.

Work is from the University of Colorado faculty and from the city of Boulder.

SOCIOLOGISTS CONVENE
Sociology Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. on April 20 in the multipurpose area of Smith Family Living Center.

The program, which will consist of a variety of musical numbers and a special lecture, will be presented by the Ogden Chapter of Utah Association of the Blind.

George H.H. (Hal) Bremerton, member of the Utah House of Representatives, will speak on "The Role of Society in Accepting the Blind." He is presently editor of the "New Messenger" magazine, a church publication for the blind.

Softball 'Murals' Get Underway For Women

Thirty-two women's softball teams on the Brigham Young University campus will be seen in intramural competition throughout the spring season. Games are played Monday through Thursday from 6:30 p.m. on the new outdoor stadium field.

The more than 400 participants are divided into three leagues: social units headed by Sheila Black, physical education majors by Marelee Foss, and independents by Ruth Ann Hiatt and Helen Miles. Twenty independent teams consist of other various houses, BYU dorms and wards.

The more than 400 participants are divided into three leagues: social units headed by Sheila Black, physical education majors by Marelee Foss, and independents by Ruth Ann Hiatt and Helen Miles. Twenty independent teams consist of other various houses, BYU dorms and wards.

Two of the most enthusiastic and active teams are married women's groups from First and Eighteenth Wards, according to JoAnn Calderwood, faculty advisor of intramural sports.

Throughout the year about 1100 BYU coeds participate in women's intramural sports. Tennis, swimming, bowling, volleyball, basketball, badminton, and track are some of the leading sports.

Sixty awards will be presented to outstanding individuals, players, and managers at the annual BYU intramural May banquet. Head of the intramural council is Gwen Adams, and her assistant is Margaret LeVitre.

Top BYU teams will travel to Greeley, Colo., April 25 for an intramural sports day at Colorado State Teachers College.

Frosh Nine Squeeze Past Prep Spikers, 9-8

Brigham Young University's first contest for the Cougar Cub freshman baseball squad downed Springville High's Devils in their first practice tilt, 9-8.

The freshmen, who aren't allowed to schedule games under present Skyline regulations, played eight innings against the prep squad. The Gators substituted freshmen and gave everyone a chance to get into the act.

The team is still in the cutting stages and has yet to be reduced to truly workable size. It was the

Wildcats Invade Prov For Fourth Time Today

Coach Jay Van Noy's Cougars keep up their "take on all comers" policy today when they meet Weber State for the fourth time in a private encounter on the Cougar diamond at 2:30 p.m.

The Cats, who have won all three of the previous contests, will again be favored today. Facing a layoff from loop action this weekend because of the Invitational Track Meet, Van Noy is trying to keep his boys in top shape for their return to conference play. On April 21 they face Montana in Provo.

Weber can on occasion come up with a good performance, as Utah State found out this past weekend as the Wildcats managed to split a twin bill with the Logan squad. Mentor Van Noy may go with his number one hurler, Jack Craven, or he may decide to give one of the less experienced members of the mound corps an opportunity to show what he can do.

Previously Weber-BYU

in this year have found the Cougars winning, 7-4, 10-2 and 15-4.

Craven's lack of good pitching has been their basic problem in these with the Cats.
